

Health Law

McMillan Metro Faerber, P.C. prides itself on understanding the business of health care — from practice/venture formation, to day-to-day operation, to structuring entrepreneurial relationships, to succession planning and acquisition or sale. Our health care team has been involved with nearly every kind of health care transaction: from small practice acquisition, to integrations with multi-practice affiliated specialty groups, to practice mergers, to large sales and integration with large, private equity-backed practices.

Our health care attorneys know the issues you will face as a health care professional; and we know how to help you navigate your path forward. Whether it's structuring the business relationship among the owners, drafting agreements for your professional workers, structuring employment agreements and policies for your non-professional employees, assisting with policies for working with patients, or drafting and negotiating your agreements with third parties, we can help.

If you are a health care professional who is just starting out or planning for a new practice or venture, an experienced professional looking to make a career move, a growing or established practice looking for health care-focused legal advice, or a mature professional or practice/venture looking to enter that final transaction, please give us a call to see if we can help you make that next move a successful one.

McMillan Metro Faerber's legal services for health care clients include:

Sub-Practices

- Formation & Start-Up
- Business Operations
- Individual Services for Professionals
- Health Care Transactions
- Regulatory Compliance
- Disputes & Litigation
- Types of Health Care Businesses Represented

Attorneys

- A. Howard Metro
- Michael A. Faerber
- David P. Shapiro
- Andrew H. Milne